Workshop Programme

Wednesday 11 April

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Session I – After the French Revolution</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>14.00</td>
<td>Welcome - introductions</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| 14.15 | Gareth Stedman Jones (Queen Mary/Cambridge)
The fantasy and reality of the German Revolution: Marx and 1848
Mark Philp (Oxford)
Imagining democracy, 1750-1850
Mike Sonenscher (Cambridge)
Madame de Staël and post-revolutionary politics  |
| 16.00 | Tea/coffee and refreshments             |
| 16.15 | Session II – Liberals and Constitutionalists  |
|       | Jonathan Beecher (UC Santa Cruz)
Lamartine and the Girondins  |
|       | Jon Parry (Cambridge)
1848, liberalism, class and Christian Socialism in British politics  |
|       | Georgios Varouxakis (Queen Mary)
The missing leader of 1848: John Stuart Mill on Armand Carrel and French political development  |
| 18.00 | End of day one                          |

19.00 for
19.30
Drinks then dinner in the Saltmarsh Rooms, King’s College
Thursday 12 April

9.00
Arrival – coffee/tea

9.15
Session III – Democrats and Socialists
Loïc Rignol (Franche-Comté)
Three theses on the first socialisms: Religion, Science, Republic

Anne-Sophie Chambost (Paris V)
Proudhon and the debates about representation in 1848-1851

Ludovic Frobert (ENS Lyon)
Radical intellectuals: the Luxembourg Commission and the national workshops

Edward Castleton (Franche-Comté)
Proudhon, socialists and the 18th Brumaire

11.00
Coffee/tea

11.15
Session IV – Republicanism

Maurizio Isabella (Queen Mary)
Italian Liberals and Republicanism before and after 1848

Thomas Jones (Cambridge/Buckingham)
The reformation of French Republican thinking in the light of 1848

Douglas Moggach (Ottawa)
1848: The debate between Republicans and Socialists

13.00
Lunch in the Saltmarsh Rooms

14.15
Session V – Nachmärz (Part I)

Chris Clark (Cambridge)
The 1850s as a period of creativity

Anna Ross (Cambridge)
Reaction or reform? Prussian state policy in the 1850’s

Diana Siclovan (Cambridge)
1848 and German socialism

Alan Sked (LSE)
1848 in the Habsburg Monarchy and the nationality question

15.45
Tea/coffee and refreshments

16.00
Session VI – Conclusions

This meeting has been organised by the Centre for History and Economics with the support of the Edmond de Rothschild Foundation. The Centre is grateful for their generous support.