

CENTRE FOR HISTORY AND ECONOMICS

Programme on Integration in Southeast Asia Trajectories of Inclusion, Dynamics of Exclusion (SEATIDE)

WP4: National and Transnational Exchange of Information New models of development and conservation in Southeast Asia

EFEU Centre, Chiang Mai, Thailand

Thursday 13 February 2014

Schedule

Welcome – Tomas Larsson

- |             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|-------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 13.00-13.30 | Teresa S. Encarnacion Tadem, University of Philippines Diliman'Contemporary contestation over models of economic development: The Philippine experience'                                                           |
| 13.30-14.00 | Tomas Larsson, University of Cambridge'The political economy of GM agriculture in Southeast Asia'                                                                                                                  |
| 14.00-14.30 | Triinu Püvi, University of Tallinn'The Shan civil society's engagement in Myanmar's development process'                                                                                                           |
| 14.30-15.00 | Coffee break                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 15.00-15.30 | Sulfikar Amir, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore'Nuclear power and risk politics in Southeast Asia'                                                                                                      |
| 15.30-16.00 | Lye Tuck Po, Universiti Sans Malaysia'Cacophonies of mutual ignorance'                                                                                                                                             |
| 16.00-16.30 | Amalia Rossi, University of Milano-Bicocca'Sufficiency economy and the institutionalization of eco-Buddhist approaches in northern Thailand: The case of Phid Tong Lang Phra Royal Project in Nan province' |
| 16.30-17.30 | Summary discussionModerator: Sumit Mandal, National University of Malaysia                                                                                                                                         |

This meeting has been organised by the Centre for History and Economics in connection with the SEATIDE programme funded under the European Commission's 7th Framework programme.

The Centre is grateful for their support.

CENTRE FOR HISTORY AND ECONOMICS

Programme on Integration in Southeast Asia Trajectories of Inclusion, Dynamics of Exclusion (SEATIDE)

*WP4: National and Transnational Exchange of Information
New models of development and conservation in Southeast Asia*
EFEO Centre, Chiang Mai, Thailand
Thursday 13 February 2014

Participants

Sulfikar Amir, sulfikar@ntu.edu.sg
College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore

Tim Harper, tnh1000@cam.ac.uk
Faculty of History / Centre for History and Economics, Magdalene College,
University of Cambridge

Tomas Larsson, thl33@cam.ac.uk
Department of Politics and International Studies / St John's College, University of Cambridge

Naila Maier-Knapp, nm574@cam.ac.uk
Centre for History and Economics, Magdalene College, University of Cambridge

Sumit Mandal, mandal.mail@gmail.com
Institute of Malaysian and International Studies (IKMAS), National University of Malaysia

Natasha Pairaudeau, np405@cam.ac.uk
Faculty of History / Centre for History and Economics, University of Cambridge

Lye Tuck Po, tplye@yahoo.com
School of Social Sciences, Universiti Sans Malaysia (Penang)

Triinu Püvi, triinupuvi@gmail.com
Estonian Institute of Humanities, University of Tallinn

Amalia Rossi, amibimba0@libero.it
Department of Human Science for Education, University of Milano-Bicocca

Teresa S. Encarnacion Tadem, teresatadem@gmail.com
Department of Political Science, University of Philippines Diliman